Water Rights Dedication

The dedication of water rights occurs with the platting of residential properties based on predetermined projected uses. For non-residential uses water rights are either dedicated at the time of platting or can be deferred until the issuance of a building permit. The amount of water rights dedication for non-residential uses is based on a projected annual water use that is dependent on the actual land use.

The cash in-lieu fee is subject to periodically change based on the market value fluctuation of the CBT units. If the projected number of CBT units results in a fraction the total number of CBT units is rounded up to the next whole number.

Along with the dedication of water rights, developments are required to pay a Windy Gap/Northern Integrated Supply Project (NISP) Supplemental Water fee for each acre-foot of water dedicated.

Subdivisions with Final Plan Approval Prior to January 1, 2015

Any development with a projected total annual water use of five (5) acre-feet or more is required to dedicate shares of Colorado Big Thompson (CBT) water units. Developments with a projected total annual water use of less than five (5) acre-feet may pay a cash in-lieu fee, subject to approval by the Director of Public Works.

Subdivisions with Final Plan Approval and Annexations After January 1, 2015

Any development is required to dedicate shares of Colorado Big Thompson (CBT) water units or may pay a cash-in-lieu fee.

Residential Water Rights Dedication

Single-Family dwelling	0.70 acre-feet per unit
Multi-Family dwelling, including duplexes	0.35 acre-feet per unit
Accessory dwelling/ Apartment	0.25 acre-feet per unit

Non-residential Water Rights Dedication

In most non-residential subdivisions the water rights dedication is required at the time of issuance of the building permit. The water right dedication amount is determined based upon the proposed land use and the projected annual water use.
